AGALLOCH:

Agalloch is an American metal band formed in 1995 in Portland, Oregon. The band is led by vocalist and guitarist John Haugm and so far have released four limited EPs, four full-length albums.

Inspired from bands like ULVER and KATATONIA, Agalloch performs a progressive and avant-garde style of folk metal that encompasses an eclectic range of tendencies including neofolk, post-rock, black metal and doom metal. Common themes in Agalloch's imagery and subject matter are natural beauty, melancholy and allusions to ancestral Heathenry. One of the non-traditional instruments Agalloch has been known to use is the skull of a deer. In the song "The Lodge" John Haugm strikes the deer skull in order to create an unusual clicking sound. <http://www.myspace.com/agalloch>

ANAAL NATHRAKH:

Anaal Nathrakh was created for one purpose - to be the soundtrack for armageddon, the audial essence of evil, hatred and violence, the true spirit of necro taken to its musical extremes. Since being founded in 1999, the band has gained a reputation for embodying precisely these things, with a history including not only the release of four albums and an EP to rapturous acclaim, but collaborations with such legendary figures as Attila Csihar (Mayhem), Shane Embury and Danny Herrera (Napalm Death), Nick Barker (Testament, Dimmu Borgir). The band headlined the INFERNO stage back in 2007 and we are glad to get them back for a true extreme live performance in 2012!
