EINHERJER REPLACES UADA

As many already know; UADA has cancelled their European tour – which sadly also includes Inferno Metal Festival. Their official statement can be read on their own Facebook page. The good news is that legendary viking metal band EINHERJER will take their spot at Inferno Metal Festival 2022. Other news is that Danish death doom band KONVENT will be moved to John Dee, filling the spot to 1914, while German melodic death metal band HIRAES will fill the spot at Vaterland stage.

EINHERJER

When Einherjer started out in 1993 the Norwegian black metal was on the rise. Einherjer went their own way and forged Viking Metal. With music and lyrics inspired by ancient Norse mythology the band made their own unique sound. The band has released several classic albums like “Dragons of the North”, “Odin Owns Ya All” and “Norwegian Native Art”. But their line of great album stretches all the way to this day as they released their amazing “North Star” last year.

It's been ten years since Einherjer played Inferno Metal Festival – but now the anthems from the greatest Viking Metal band in the world will shine over the festival once more!

HIRAES

German's melodic death metallers Hiraes released their debut album “Solitary” last year. The band was formed on the ashes of Dawn of Disease when the band disbanded in 2020. The only difference from the latter is the amazing vocalist Britta Görtz now taking over the microphone. Fans of bands like Arch Enemy and Amon Amarth need to check out Hiraes when they play Inferno for the first time!
