SLEGEST REPLACE VREDEHAMMER AT INFERNO 2023

Sadly Vredehammer can't perform at this year's Inferno Festival due to injury. Luckily the Norwegian blackened doom metal band Slegest are able to step in to perform at the festival. The band recently released their fourth album called "Avstand" to great acclaim. We can't wait to have Slegest perform at Inferno Metal Festival 2023!

SLEGEST

It was only a year after guitarist and vocalist Stig Ese left Vreid that Slegest was born. In 2012 their first EP was launched and in 2013 their debut album was came out. By now Slegest have two EPs and four albums under their belt. Their style can be described as blackened doom metal – not being afraid to be inspired by 70s and 80s rock as well as Norwegian black metal. The band has proved to do great live performances – just recently doing a successful tour with their companions Kampar in Norway. Be sure to see Slegest perform live at Inferno Metal Festival 2023 when they enter the stage at John Dee to serve some sinister and severely hard hitting heavy metal tunes!
